GRAIN SAMPLES FOR EXHIBITION
The Experimental Farm at Indian Head is collecting samples of grain in sheaf to be sent to the world's fair at St. Louis next year. Samples of wheat, oats and barley are wanted and it is asked that sheaves be left with the secretary of the Strathcona board of trade by Saturday next, Sept. 27th. It is understood that it is the intention to ask farmers whose sheaves are considered especially good to furnish samples of threshed grain to be exhibited with the sheaves.

In this connection it may not be out of place to remark that the request for sheaf samples was made too late to secure the best that the district affords.
All the grain was practically cut before the request reached the farmers, and as the grain was cut to get it out of the field and not for sample, naturally it is not in a condition to compete with exhibits cut specially for exhibition purposes.

Another point in this connection is that the grain which is found in the handmost sheaf is not always the best grain. If only the farmers who at this busy season trim up a sheaf or two of grain and bring it into town are to be depended on for the samples of threshed grain upon which the reputation of the district is to rest in a world's competition the chances are that we will not make the record that we should. The instances of the season for gathering sheaves cannot be helped but it has been suggested, that means should be taken to get together a few of the best samples of threshed grain which the district has produced this year for strictly exhibition purposes. The advantage of having a quantity of such samples available whenever called upon is perfectly plain.
The district would then always be in a position to make the best showing possible in quality of grain, as it has never yet been. The suggestion is that the Edmonton agricultural society should take the matter up and hold an exhibition of threshed grain as soon after threshing is over as possible, not for immediate show purposes but so as to get together and make available for future shows in St. Louis, Japan or anywhere else the best that the district affords in this one of its best years. If prizes or medals were offered for the best bushel or five or ten bushels of wheat, oats and barley, the grain taking the prize to be paid for besides, say about December 1st, it should be possible to get together our choicest samples. The prize exhibits to become the property of the society and be used for exhibition purposes the world over. We have a reputation in oats and can make one in wheat and barley as well, but a matter so important to the welfare of this district should not be left to chance or to outside effort.

A CONVERT.

The local government of the Northwest has been run on lines in which the party divisions of federal politics were not recognized. This has been an unceasing source of doubt and wonder to many of the leading party papers of Eastern Canada. They could not understand how provincial politics could be handled on other than Dominion party lines. They did not realize that circumstances alter cases, and that conditions in the Territories were not such as to admit of division on Dominion party lines on Territorial matters.
But now the most pronounced party organ in Eastern Canada, influenced by circumstances over which it has no control, comes out for no party in provincial politics and gives very good reasons for the change. The only weak point in the Globe's argument is the Globe itself. That is the fact that the Globe did not see the force of its present reasoning until it had become practically impossible for its party friends to govern on party lines. The following despatch gives the Globe's position:

Toronto, Sept. 17.—The Globe this morning, after admitting a deadlock in Ontario politics, makes a straight bat for coalition, as follows:
"It is upon provincial issues that the Ontario parties should be formed, and no doubt, in order to reach that reconciliation, a fusion of the existing parties, with equal representation from each in the government, would be necessary. Thereafter the government should be formed, not according to the party views of any member of the legislature, but in consideration of the exceptional fitness of an executive officer."

"In future, perhaps, parties would rise, but if so they would arise upon provincial and not upon national issues, and we should have in our legislature sane and rational discussion upon provincial questions, wholly without regard to their effect upon the national parties. Such an arrangement would involve no humiliation to Mr.
Ross or Mr. Whitney; it would give each party an equal voice in determining provincial policy for the present; it would put the strongest men of each party at the head of affairs and would insure the existence of a government strong enough to give the province a progressive administration.

And in saying this we see no reason why we should be suspected of disloyalty to the present government, or be accused of having lost faith in its ability to administer the affairs of the province."

The Fight Goes Merrily On.

Montreal, Sept. 17.—The Hon. Mr.
Tarte has given out the following reply to the Globe's peculiar article of this morning:

"I am not astonished at the Globe's language towards me. As to the influence of that paper, however, you can see it in the result of its efforts during the recent campaign of 1900. It spoke in support of the liberal cause. The election came, and Mr. Mulock was the only liberal candidate who was returned victorious out of fourteen seats in and around Toronto."

"Campbell, who succeeded Wallace, was elected after saying exactly what I said not for the first time, but many times, before the prime minister and his colleagues."

"The Globe is absolutely free to say what it likes about me. I know it represents influences which for a long time have been hostile to me. It is astonishing to me to see how some people refuse to notice and accept the true condition of the public mind."

"What I ask, and what I sincerely believe the majority of the country demands, is a re-adjustment of the tariff in a truly Canadian sense. During the last session the Hon. Mr. Fielding, speaking on behalf of the government, announced the revision of the tariff for the next session. The general situation vividly recalls to my mind the situation of the country in 1866, 1867 1868, just after confederation; a group of young men, including A. Jette, David Beauchamp, Laurier, Joly, Fabre and others, had founded the Parti National, a national party, advocating the protection of national industries. They stirred public opinion during two or three years."

"John A. Macdonald was beaten on the Canadian Pacific question and Mr. Mackenzie formed his cabinet. The liberals of the province of Quebec, unable to renounce their sense of protection."

"What happened? The Conservative party took possession of the policy of the liberals of Lower Canada, making of that policy their great armed combat. You know the result of the elections in 1878."

"The Globe displays wilful malice in attacking me because I travel a great deal. With the exception of my trip to the great lakes, which I made for the purpose of studying the country, I have not made an official visit to any province in Ontario or Quebec, without having been invited and pressed to do so."

"On Sept. 19, I shall be at Orillia on the invitation of the liberal association. I have invited me on behalf of the Midwestern exposition, to be at Strathroy on Sept. 20. I have a dozen other invitations to visit Ontario. Shall I refuse them because it displeases the Globe?"

Canada's Agricultural Exports.

Canada's export of wheat, according to unverified figures, amounted for the fiscal year ending June 30th, to 36, 446,357 bushels valued at $24,410,101, as compared with 18,336,252 bushels, valued $13,662,930, for 1900-1901, an increase of 92 per cent. Great Britain was our largest customer, taking 33, 371,876 bushels. The United States only bought 15,086 bushels but Belgium took 1,737,377 bushels, and Germany 1,032,583 bushels. In 1901 our exports of wheat were: Great Britain, 18, 766,772 bushels; Belgium, 379,585 bushels; Germany, 361,102 bushels; Italy, 278,449 bushels; France, 31,550 bushels; United States, 35,186 bushels.

Our export bacon trade seems to more than hold its own. Last year we sent abroad $12,163,596 worth, an increase of $666,025 reckoned with the preceding twelve months. Great Britain is by long odds the largest consumer of Canadian bacon. Last year we sold the mother country $12,139,412 worth, or $669,000 more than in 1901.
The United States bought from us $42, 599, an increase of $5,881. In the matter of hams we did not do so well, our export last year aggregating $241,485, or $14,000 below that of the previous year.

Canadian butter exports show an increase of $2,311,000, the total for 1902 being $8,671,130, and for 1901, $3,365, 197. Great Britain took $5,465,495; the United States, $41,554; Newfoundland, $47,966, and other countries, $113, 005. Our sales of cheese abroad were rather disappointing last year. The value of our exports was $19,870,072, a decrease of $1,250,000 compared with the preceding twelve months.

Our exports of eggs last year reached the sum of $1,736,141, being an increase of $43,845. The purchasers were:
Great Britain, $1,691,024; United States, $38,408; other countries, $6,554. In shipments of poultry, too, Canada did well, the total being valued at $238, 175, or $96,653 better than in 1901.
Nearly all our poultry went to Great Britain, only $7,612 being shipped to the United States and $14,000 to other countries. Our neighbors are awakening to an appreciation of the Canadian potato, which appears to find a ready market in the United States and Cuba. The total export was valued at $98,000, as against $58,410 for 1901, an increase of $39,590. The United States bought $328,625 worth, and Cuba $231,106. In the year previous those countries bought $70,174 and $181,103, respectively.

Territorial Wool.

Commercial: The total clip of the range country has been, according to Mr. Leckie's figures, about 1,100,000 pounds, as against 900, 000 pounds last year. The figures are based on the results of personal interviews and bargaining with practically every sheep raiser in the range country, and may be considered more accurate than the nicely calculated approximations of the Northwest government, which are sometimes as much as 100 per cent out. The average price paid for the wool clip this season was around 8 to 9c per pound. Mr. Leckie thinks that the sheep raising industry has already passed the limit up-to which it may be successfully carried on in the range country. The market for mountain wool is not a large one and unless some new outlet is found the industry will hardly be able to keep up its present proportions, much less make further growth.

MAILED.

Advance, Sept. 13.
The Mailed agricultural fair held on Tuesday and Wednesday, the 9th and 10th, was a most successful one, considering the many disadvantages confronting the association this year.
It had been decided to hold the fair in the early part of July, but the bad weather that prevailed at that time compelled a postponement to a date two months later.

Commissioner Perry, of the N.W.M.
P., accompanied by Mr. Rutherford, chief veterinarian, Canada, visited this place on Friday last, his object being to purchase horses for the use of the police. Sixteen animals were shown, but only one, brought in by Mr. R.
Patterson, was accepted. The style of horses shown did not satisfy the commissioner who stated that he would only purchase horses coming up to the standard set, and that the animals shown did not come up to that standard.

A driving rain storm from the north west set in last night at an early hour.
The storm, which was accompanied by a heavy wind, lasted during the greater part of the night. To-day is bright, clear and pleasant. At an early hour this morning the tops of the hills were covered with snow.

United States Grain Crop.

The New York Herald made a careful estimate of the grain crop in the western states, with the following result:

"If the general prosperity be in proportion to the wealth gathered from the fields, next year will be one of contentment and comfort for all classes.
Millions more in mortgages will be lifted from the west, and thousands of farmers will face the year 1903 with a clean financial slate. From a compilation of the various figures of crop economists, one is enabled to say that the profits for the farmer this year will be $2,000,000,000 or more, most of which has been realized upon corn and wheat. The calculation is based on the average of estimates of various statisticians. This average gives approximately the following results for the year: Wheat 653,500,000 bushels; corn 2,589,951, 000 bushels; barley, 120,900,850 bushels; rye, 30,350,880 bushels, and oats, 751,528,724 bushels. Mr. B. W. Snow, one of the best known crop experts in the country, says that the total for the wheat crop will be 778,000,000 bushels. The same authority says that the year's corn harvest will be 2, 500,000,000 bushels or nearly double that of a year ago.

Big Qu'Appelle Land Deal.

Fort Qu'Appelle, N. W. T., Sept. 15.— D. H. McDonald, & Co. closed to-day one of the largest sales of lands recorded in the Territories, on behalf of the Saskatchewan Valley Land Co.
They sold 100,000 acres of land in the Saskatchewan district to a syndicate of American capitalists, represented at Regina by Z. M. Hamilton, late of the Calgary Herald, for a sum approaching $500,000.

ATHABASCA OIL.

O. W. Chamberlain, of Petrolia, who recently visited the petroleum deposits, on the Athabasca, has returned to Ontario. In Toronto he was interviewed by the Mail-Enterprise. He said:

"At Pelican Rapids the party encountered the side of the Ottawa government's last drilling for oil. Here a big gas well had been struck and abandoned. Several miles away the exploration party could hear the roaring of gas, and as they approached the well they found a huge gas well on fire, emitting enormous volumes of gas the noise of whose fury was plainly heard for miles around. Mr.
Chamberlain is confident that both oil and gas exists in very large quantities in the neighborhood, and that when transportation facilities are extended one of the largest oil territories on the continent will be developed. He gathered a sample of oil from the surface of the river, which analysis showed a fine quality of petroleum with a paraffin base."

THE GARDSTON SETTLEMENT.

Mrs. Zina Y. Card, of Gardston, writing to the "West-End Farmer" says:
"Fifteen years ago eight families settled on Lee's Creek, on the southern boundary of the Blood Indian reserve, forming one small hamlet, plowing five acres of the prairie sod and subduing the natural vegetation, a few small bushels of grain were raised. This together with our labors, convinced us of what the new Lethbridge district could be formed into. To-day we have ten settlements, about 4,000 inhabitants, and thousands of acres of this, the greatest among grain and cattle producing countries, under the controlling and leading hand of the farmer. At this writing the whole of the Southern Alberta is one waving green, beautiful carpet of grass and grain, checkered with lakes of crystal water, thus forming a picture of pictures."

Real Estate Speculation.

Commercial: The list of real estate dealers in Winnipeg is steadily growing and their efforts, conscious and unconscious, are all bending towards one and the same end, the acquisition of land. They have already succeeded in greatly enhancing the price of property in the city by vigorous advertising and a good deal of speculation is now going on. There can be no serious objection to the business of real estate dealing, so long as it is carried on within reasonable limits, but much of the business at present being done in farm and city property here is pure gambling and will not profit the country in any way.
Buying property for speculation is a thing which should be discouraged by every legitimate means, but buying on margins for the purpose of holding up ground for purchase is apt to become a menace to the true interests of the country.

Troubles of Government Ownership

Melbourne, Victoria, Sept. 16.—Following the dissolution of the Victorian parliament to-day, in consequence of an adverse vote recently on the government's schemes for retrenchment, the premier, W. H. Irvine, issued a manifesto to the electors appealing to them to prevent their own servants from paralyzing the administration.
He said that in order to avoid a serious deficit the government decided on a graduated reduction of the salaries of public servants, and that thereupon a mass of the state employees became rebellious, a strike on the state railroads was openly organized, and in consequence of the pressure brought to bear on them by the malcontents the assemblymen voted against the government.

Wasted Sweetness.

Kingston, Jamaica, Sept. 7.—At a representative meeting yesterday of sugar planters of Jamaica, resolutions were passed condemning Great Britain's neglect of the West Indies, resulting almost in the total ruin to the sugar industry, setting forth the total inferiority of the measures proposed by Great Britain for the relief of the West Indies and her planters, and calling for federation with Canada as the only means of retrieving the fallen fortunes of Jamaica.

Although the subject has been discussed lately, yesterday was the first time a definite proposal of federation with Canada was made.
Neepawa Press: Threshers' returns for early cut wheat on light lands show far averages of from twenty to thirty bushels per acre. Several small patches near town have yielded thirty, while a 210 acre farm at Oberon gave a total of 4,500 bushels.

TRADE OF THE GREAT NORTH.

W. G. Ibbotson arrived from Fort Smith by way of the Landing on Friday evening. Mr. Ibbotson went to Smith early in the summer in charge of goods shipped by Ross Bros. for W. Connors and reached Smith on June 29th. He returned with the brigade of Commodore Ship, who delivers the greater part of the northern supplies at Smith and brings back the returns of fur. On the present trip he brings up the winter's trade of W. Connors and his wife, who headquarters are respectively at Good Hope and Fort Resolution. Mr. Ibbotson's route at Little Red River on the Athabasca, met Colin Fraser, McLeod and Green, and the Stony Rapids of the Athabasca, met Hursell or the gas springs of the Athabasca, and met Gordon's teams this side of the Landing.

They left Smith on August 10th and were thirty-seven days on the trip to the Landing, tracking all the way. The weather was very wet and cold, and once a little snow fell. New potatoes were in use at Fort Smith, when the party left, and they also got potatoes at the Little Red River and at McMurray.

A serious epidemic of measles or some similar disease is reported all along the Athabasca and Mackenzie. It came from the north and is supposed to have been brought in by the American whalers. Both Indians and white people take it, but it is much more severe on the Indians, among whom there are many deaths, principally because they do not take proper care. When the fever is on they expose themselves and of course the result is death. Seven deaths occurred amongst those at Smith just before the boats started for Edmonton.

Aside from the sickness conditions are very favorable on the Mackenzie. There has been a good catch of fur, rabbits and geese generally was plentiful.

The fur brought up on the present trip by Smith is the whole trade of Great Slave lake and the Mackenzie river for the year outside of that made by the Hudson's Bay Company and consists of 120 bears and cubs. The value must be a matter of guess until it is opened out and valued according to the present state of the market, but it is probably not less than $100,000. The trade is divided between Hursell & Nagle whose headquarters is Fort Resolution, with outposts at Rae, Providence, Wrigley, Norman, Nelsoo river and Good Hope, and W. Connors, whose headquarters is at Good Hope with outposts at Norman and Red River. The Hudson's Bay Company have posts at all the points mentioned and at others as well.

Four screw steamers ply on the waters of Great Slave lake and Lake below the rapids at Smith and down the Mackenzie to Peel river near the Arctic ocean. They are the Wrigley belonging to the H. B. Co., the Caribou belonging to Hursell & Nagle, the Caribou belonging to W. Connors and the St. Alphonsus belonging to the Roman Catholic mission. The distance is so great from the outposts on the Mackenzie to Edmonton that it is impossible to collect the fur in the north, it is taken to Edmonton, disposed of there, and returned with goods to those same outposts in the one season. The difficulty is bridged by an arrangement between the northern trader and the Edmonton outfitter. During the winter the trader sends out by dog train the thousand or two thousand miles as the case may be an estimate of his winter's catch and his requirements for the following season. The goods are forwarded to Athabasca Landing by team it possible before the opening of spring, and the trader, who probably had loads of summer goods, are built at the Landing and the goods sent down the river with the first high water, that is, in May. The goods go through to Fort Smith without breaking bulk, except partially for the short portage at Grand Rapids. The furs collected at the Great Slave lake and Mackenzie river outposts reach Fort Smith somewhat later in the season, some of them having to come further up stream than the goods had to go down. As the season carries more goods than the steamers part of them have been passed over the portages at Smith and sent on down stream, but the remainder of the brigade awaits the arrival of the steamers with the fur. The fur is transferred over the portage to the steamers and the goods which remain transferred to, or the goods are towed by, the steamers. The steamers then start down stream and the goods up stream. The traders have as yet no steamers this side of Smith so the return trip is a weary drag of 800 miles up stream to the Landing, the monotony being broken by a probable across Lake Athabasca and specially heavy tracking in the rapids of the Athabasca.

Hursell & Nagle are having a steamer built at Smith, and will be in use next season. At present the H. B. Co. have a large stern wheeler the Grhams, the Roman Catholic mission have a small side wheeler the St. Joseph and Colin Fraser, of Chipewyan, has a small screw steamer the Ethel. But these are not at the service of the fur traders. There is no steamer on the navigable stretch of the Athabasca from the head of Grand Rapids to the Landing about 150 miles.

A point of very great interest to the traders of the very far north is the presence, season after season, of American whalers in the Arctic seas, at the mouth of the Mackenzie. These vessels sail from San Francisco every spring, enter the Arctic by Behring straits and after hunting whales during the summer spend the winter in the harbor which exists on Herschell island and return to San Francisco the following year, their places being taken by others who sail from San Francisco in that year. These vessels outfit, or trade with the Esquimaux and Indians as well as for hunting whales, and as they pay no duty and are under no restrictions the cargo on trade at a very great advantage over the traders who go down the river from Edmonton, whose goods have paid duty and who are under strict watch as to what they trade up the river as far as Good Hope. Last year the interested parties in San Francisco reported to the Canadian government that they had determined to abandon the Mackenzie river. It was no doubt on the strength of this that no action was taken. This should not be allowed to occur again, and it is to be hoped it will not.

The amount of trade done by way of the Athabasca and Mackenzie may be estimated from the boat loads of goods which leave the Landing each season. Each of these boats generally carries 200 pieces or parcels of 100 pounds weight each. Goods are put up in parcels of that weight for convenience in portaging. The following is an estimate of the number of boats which left the Landing this season: H. B. Co. 25, Roman Catholic mission 12, W. Connors, 13, J. M. Swigert, Resolution, 4, Jos. Hursell, Fort Smith, 2, Colin Fraser, Chipewyan, 9, P. Luteo, Chipewyan, 1, F. S. Fraser, Red River on the Athabasca, 1, Gordon, McMurray, 2, Ladouceur, House river, 1, Johnston Bros., Wapiscaw, 4; Others in small lots 2. Total 80 boats or 16,000 pounds of supplies. This is certainly a trade of some importance not only to Edmonton but to the trade of Canada. As already pointed out, the Canadian government is compelled that letters should be sent out even from the furthest north post at least once during the winter. While it is just as necessary in order that the mail may be carried on with any regard to profit, that the northern trader should know the condition of the fur market once at least during the winter and often as possible. For the past two years no government mail has been run beyond the Landing into all that vast region to accommodate all that great trade. Each year the Hudson's Bay Company having a system of posts throughout the length and breadth of the region, bring out and take in a mail. The expense is very great and it is too much to expect that the company will incur, that expense for the benefit of their rivals in trade. They do carry letters for the missionaries, but the trade of the country outside of the H. B. Co. is as absolutely without a mail service now as it was 100 years ago, except in so far as each individual trader provides for the carriage of his own mail. Connors, from Good Hope, 2,000 miles north, Hursell & Nagle, from Resolution, 1,000 miles north, and Colin Fraser, from Chipewyan, 700 miles north, all are compelled to make that tremendous trip at their own expense, while their rivals in trade, who simply have to stand the disadvantage of not knowing what is going on in the way of trade. To say that this condition of affairs is discreditable to the post office department is to put it mildly. The great cost of a mail service down the Mackenzie, is the excuse for the delay that is no excuse. The trade is there as the figures given above show, and trade of such importance is entitled to reasonable mail accommodation. Whether the cost may be to the post office department it is as great to the private individual and there is no reason why the private individual should have to bear the cost. The mail service for the convenience of business not for the declaring of dividends, and the number of letters carried is no evidence of the business importance of the service required.

Although the missionaries have their mail carried through the kindness of the Hudson's Bay Company, there is no reason why they should be put in the humiliating position of having to ask as a favor what they should enjoy as a right, for why the Hudson's Bay Company should be asked to do for the government what is the government's first duty to do for its citizens as the conditions are to-day.

A special meeting of the school board was held in the secretary's office on Saturday afternoon to consider the reports of diphtheria in town and the action to be taken regarding the schools.
